

Abstract of the Disclosure

5 A low molecular weight non-entangled polyvinylpyrrolidone for use as a separation media for microchannel electrophoretic separation. The separation media may be used in a system in which multiple samples of small compounds are injected into a single microchannel at time spaced intervals followed by a continuous detection interval.